General information:

Project title: Communicating science and culture 4 (CSC4)

Duration: 4 weeks in total - 2 weeks online, 1 week face-to-face, 1 week online

Description: The project aims at developing students' transversal skills, also known as transferable or soft skills (communication, presentation skills, problem-solving skills, teamwork, adaptability). They will be enhanced and practised both in virtual - online and onsite environment, academic, as well as during more relaxed, free-time, sports and cultural activities. This edition of the program will also concentrate on promoting the knowledge and skills to communicate science and culture effectively in a rapidly evolving digital world, encouraging the responsible use of AI, critical engagement with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), and active participation as responsible European citizens.

Participants: This project involves interlingual and intercultural exchanges between students from several EUT+ Universities.
